

The Story Behind Bubbie's TUSCAN CHICKEN

Tuscan Chicken may bring to mind a cozy farmhouse kitchen tucked among the rolling hills of Tuscany, where simple ingredients such as garlic, tomatoes, herbs, olive oil, and cream come together to create comforting meals.

The creamy Tuscan chicken popular today, however, is best thought of as an Italian-inspired dish rather than a traditional centuries-old Tuscan recipe.

Its appeal comes from combining rustic Mediterranean flavors with a rich, creamy sauce. Tender chicken is seasoned and browned, then surrounded by garlic, sun-dried tomatoes, spinach, Parmesan, and fragrant Italian herbs. As everything simmers together, the sauce becomes savory and luxurious while the herbs and tomatoes give it plenty of character.

For Bubbie, this is the kind of recipe that belongs in the middle of the family table—a skillet filled with beautiful colors, wonderful aromas, and enough creamy sauce for everyone to spoon over pasta, rice, or a piece of crusty bread.

Perhaps that is what makes Bubbie's Tuscan Chicken so special. It takes everyday ingredients and turns them into something that feels warm and generous—a reminder that a memorable meal doesn't have to be complicated when it is prepared with care.

*Good food.
Good family.
Great memories.*

Bubbie's Thought:

The best meals don't simply fill our plates. They fill our homes with wonderful aromas, bring the people we love to the table, and give us another memory to share.
